

Man Held Here Identified As Supposed Victim of Sack Murder

Cincinnati Detective Positively Identifies Man Arrested Here As Albert E. Thompson

CINCINNATI'S GREAT MURDER
MYSTERY DEEPENS AS OFFIC-ERS LEARN THAT RELIG-IOUS CRANK ARREST-
ED HERE IS MAN THOUGHT WAS KILLED

Cincinnati's famous Sack Murder deepened considerably this morning when Detective John Wank, of the Cincinnati detective force, arrived here and identified the man arrested yesterday afternoon and held in the Mason county jail as Albert E. Thompson, who was supposed to have been the victim of the sack murder.

Detective Wank arrived in Maysville at 10 o'clock and immediately reported to police headquarters. He was shown the papers that were taken from the clothing of the man held here and after looking over the books distributed by the Salvation Army, the government shipping tickets, etc., he said he was almost positive that the man held here was the man he and other detectives in Cincinnati had thought had been killed.

Later Mr. Wank was taken to the county jail where he positively identified Thompson as the man thought dead in Cincinnati. This identification was established by a careful examination of the body and by answers given to certain questions propounded by the detective. Thompson said that he had been about the Salvation Army headquarters in Cincinnati for a couple of days and that he had eaten several meals there. He said he rented a room from the Salvation Army for himself and for a man named Moore, who worked at a box factory. He denied, however, that he and Moore had ever had any trouble or had had a fight on the river front in Cincinnati Friday night of last week.

It will be remembered that the body found cut to pieces and placed in sacks in an unoccupied house on West Fourth street in Cincinnati was identified as that of Thompson by Salvation Army officials and by means of a laundry mark on the underwear. This laundry mark was the figures "314". After the Salvation Army officials said they felt certain the body found was that of Thompson, it was learned that Thompson had been a patient in St. Frances Hospital in Hamilton, Ohio, some time before and inquiring at this hospital the Cincinnati authorities learned that his laundry mark there was "314". This seemed to positively identify the body as that of Thompson and at the request of the family the dismembered body was shipped to his home in Indiana.

When questioned here this morning about lending any of his clothes to another, Thompson said that he had loaned no clothes except a coat which had been a part of a Culver Military Academy uniform. This, he said, he loaned to a man in Cincinnati last week who never returned it. He remembered nothing about lending any of his underwear to anyone.

The body which was supposed to have been that of Thompson was received in Roselawn, Ind., by relatives yesterday and as soon as they saw the face, they said it was not their relative. About the time the Cincinnati police received this message from Indiana, they received a message from Maysville informing them that a man giving the name of Albert E. Thompson was under arrest here and Detective Wank was sent to Maysville to see if the man held here was really Albert E. Thompson.

The identification made here this morning deepens Cincinnati's big murder mystery and the problem for the police now to solve is to find whose body was found so badly mutilated in the unoccupied house.

Detective Chief Lovo was inclined to believe the man met death out of the city, probably in Northern Kentucky, and his body was taken to the West Fourth street address, where the murderer had intentions of burying it in the cellar, but was frightened away by the negro boy who made the grow-some find. Detectives have been told to find the elderly white man who pitched pennies for the negro boy in front of the place where the body was found. This man disappeared when the boy went into the house.

Detectives Wank and Hanrahan were led last night to the barber shop of F. Hahn, 204 West Ninth street. Last Friday morning they learned, a soldier came into the place and obtained a shave and haircut. He said he would return the next morning for a shampoo, which he did. When he arose from a chair he expressed the belief that he had blood spots on his shoes and pants.

"It looks like blood. I know I didn't murder anybody last night!" he exclaimed. Then he brushed the spots from his trousers, the detectives learned, they were paint spots. He refused to allow an attendant to wash the spots from his pants, the detectives learned.

After making inquiry as to the location of the Pennsylvania Railway Station and how to get to Covington, he left. The man told a barber that he served two and a half years in the army, but refrained from naming his company or where it was stationed. He was almost six feet in height, light complexioned and had brown hair; was of medium build and rather full-faced, with a Roman nose.

Detective Wank while here today expressed the opinion that the body was that of a soldier returning from some camp. All of the outer garments had been removed from the body. Both arms and both legs were cut off as was also the head. The head was in one sack, the arms and legs in another and the trunk of the body in the third sack.

The body which had been shipped to the Indiana home of Thompson will be shipped back to Cincinnati and Thompson, himself, was taken to Cincinnati this afternoon by Detective Wank to clear up that side of the story.

It was learned today that Thompson was in Maysville Thursday night. He arrived here over the L. & N. and asked a gentleman at the corner of Third and Bridge streets the way to the coal docks. He was shown and caught a street car going east. He was also seen at the Liberty warehouse about five o'clock Friday morning and was begging in several East end grocery stores during the morning. He is a terrible complainer saying that he was gassed while working in an ammunition factory at Paducah, Ky., and that this affected his heart. He says he only has a month and a day to live but says he has never done any wrong to any one and is not afraid to go back to Cincinnati or elsewhere to face the authorities.

Detective Wank today said that the arrest of Thompson here and the information given by the Maysville police establishing that Thompson is really alive will cause the Cincinnati police to change their entire plans toward solving the murder mystery but he did not know along what lines they would work except that they expected to follow out closely the Ninth street barber shop tip.

FLU SHOWS CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT IN CITY

Dr. J. S. Locke, County Health Officer, this morning announces that influenza conditions in Maysville continue to show considerable improvement although in the county the disease is still bad in certain sections.

CIRCULATION MANAGER ILL

Mrs. George Shipley, in charge of the circulation of the Public Ledger, has been confined to her home in East Second street, several days on account of illness but is now much improved and expects to be on the job again the first of next week.

WINTER AT LAST—A VALENTINE

The people of this community received a real Valentine Friday night in the form of a sleet and snow storm which continues today. This is about the worst spell of weather this section has seen this winter and the weather prophets promise us more of it from now until the first of March.

POULTRY SHOW WILL COME TO A CLOSE THIS EVENING

Show Has Been a Wonderful Success
In Every Way—Poultry Enthusiasts Now Planning For Germanatown Fair.

The second annual Mason County Poultry show comes to a close Saturday night with a very attractive program that will attract a large number of city people. The country people attended the show well during the day Saturday and although the weather was very disagreeable there was much interest shown all during the day.

The show has proven to be a much greater success than ever the promoters had hoped for. The first show was held in connection with the Corn and Tobacco Fair last year but because this fair came when the city and county was in the midst of an influenza epidemic and was postponed the poultry association officials did not think they should let their show go by the board, however, and they arranged this independent showing.

All during the week there have been good crowds and the birds which have been on display were far above the ordinary and attracted much favorable comment from the visiting experts, who said they were as good as could be seen in many state fairs.

This evening a special music program will be given by Young's Orchestra and as this is the last opportunity for the city people they should crowd the large building all evening. The show is absolutely free no charge being made for anything.

FARMERS DISAPPOINTED

The County Board of Agriculture and County Agent George Kirk had planned quite a meeting of farmers at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon when an expert from the State University was expected to address them. The expert was unable to come and word was received here Friday night to that effect. Despite the bad weather there were several farmers here who were disappointed.

MAYSVILLE HAS FIRST CLASS ORCHESTRA

Prof. J. H. Young, director and instructor of the Maysville Boys' Band has organized a first class orchestra in Maysville that fills the place of a musical organization such as Maysville has needed for a long time. We now have an orchestra which makes first-class music and which can be called upon to enliven all of our public gatherings.

AUTO DEALERS MAKING SALES

There was never a better winter for the local automobile salesmen. Up until this time the roads have been in good condition for demonstrations and the people have had plenty of money. It is understood that more cars have been sold up to this time for spring delivery than during any previous year.

NEIGHBOR EDITOR IN THE MIDDLE OF OHIO SENSATION

J. E. Cross, Former West Union, Ohio,
Editor Tangled Up in State Mystery at Columbus—Forged
Papers Said to Have Been Used.

Columbus, February 15—There is discussion here this week of the possibility of a legislative investigation of the forgery of the name of William D. Fulton, Secretary of State, to a copy of the resolution ratifying the Federal prohibition amendment.

The inquiry may be demanded to clear the entire matter and to act right Fulton and those innocent of any wrong-doing who have been placed in a quandary. The suggestion was made today after the Secretary of State had obtained additional information from Washington.

Soon after the resolution was adopted and signed by the presiding officers of the House and Senate, J. E. Cross, former State Printer and an Anti-Saloon League worker and present recording clerk of the senate came to the Secretary of State and asked for Fulton's signature to a certified copy of the amendment. He asserted that he wished to give it to Senator David A. Liggett, of Logan, author of the ratification resolution, who wished to preserve it as an heirloom for his family.

Fulton readily consented, but in affixing his name he balked and the middle initial, "D." had to be traced and his nervousness made it a double line. Completing the signature the document was handed to Cross.

When a photographic copy came from Washington it had an identical "D" leading to the conclusion that the original was sent on to Washington or that Fulton's signature was imitated. Liggett has not yet presented his own original to the Secretary of State to have it checked upon this point.

In the meantime Cross has refused to comment on the matter. It may also be mentioned that in the meantime the official letter of Governor James M. Cox has gone forward. But Fulton and others are not satisfied.

In the first place, either Liggett has a forged copy or Washington has a forged copy. If Liggett has a forged copy this is held to be of no importance in itself.

JOE HOOPES KILLED IN A PORTSMOUTH STEEL PLANT

Maysville Man Dies When Struck in the Head by a Heavy Piece of Steel This Morning—Had Been Working in Steel Mills.

Word was received here at noon that Joseph Hoopes, son of Mrs. Mary E. Hoopes, of East Front street, had been killed in Portsmouth, Ohio, and that his body would be brought to this city for burial.

Full particulars as to how Mr. Hoopes met his death are lacking at this time but it has been learned that he was struck in the head by a heavy piece of steel in one of Portsmouth's large steel plants, where he has been working for some time.

Joe Hoopes was well known and well liked in Maysville. He spent most of his life here and was an industrious and clever young man. Since going to Portsmouth some time ago he had become quite skilled in a steel plant and was filling a splendid position when he met with the accident which caused his death.

The remains will be brought to Maysville for burial.

TWO DIVORCE SUITS FILED THIS AFTERNOON

Two suits for divorce were filed in the Mason Circuit Court this afternoon and in each suit the wife is the plaintiff. Mrs. Jennie Brown asks for a divorce from her husband, James Brown, for the custody of their two children and for alimony and all general relief. Mrs. Mae E. Faust also asks for a divorce from her husband, Amos Faust, Jr. They lived together but two months, according to the petition, having been married in Maysville on October 21st, 1918, and having separated on December 21, 1918. She asks for a divorce from the bonds of matrimony, for restoration to her maiden name, Mae Ellis, for costs and all proper relief.

S. F. REED MADE PRESIDENT OF AGRICULTURE BOARD

At the regular monthly meeting of the Mason County Board of Agriculture held this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce Mr. Stanley F. Reed was elected president of the board to succeed Mr. W. D. Cochran. It was also decided to return a number of charts furnished by the International Harvester Co., and which were to be used in community meetings throughout the county, it being the opinion of the directors that because of health conditions it would not be advisable to hold these community meetings.

TOBACCO PRICE FOR PAST WEEK SHOWS DECREASE OF $6.44

Low Grade of Tobacco Is Responsible
For Decrease in Average Price
Supervisor Mitchell Says in Weekly Report.

During the week closed Friday the Maysville looseleaf tobacco market sold a total of 2,555,255 pounds at a general average of $35.05 a hundred pounds according to the weekly report of Supervisor William Mitchell made public this afternoon. The cause of the decrease in price is that the offerings during the week were of an inferior quality according to Mr. Mitchell.

This report shows a decrease in the number of pounds sold from last week as well as a decrease in average price of $6.44 per hundred pounds. Better tobacco and therefore a better price is expected for next week, Mr. Mitchell says.

The report follows:
The Maysville Tobacco Market during the week ending Friday, February 14, sold a total of 2,555,255 pounds at a general average of $35.05. This is a decrease of $6.44 per hundred pounds under the weekly average for last week and this decrease is due largely to the inferior quality of tobacco delivered during the week. During the last part of the week it was a very poor market with receipts small but during next week more tobacco and a better quality is expected which will insure an increase in price. Up to the present time the Maysville market has sold a total of 18,848,690 pounds of tobacco.

WM. MITCHELL, Supervisor
Maysville Looseleaf Market.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

THE NATIONAL OBJECTIVE

American entered the world war when in honor there was no other alternative. When German arrogance, German outrage and German murder of our women and children on the high seas reached a point beyond further forbearance. But once made, it was no half-way decision.

America went into the war to see it to a finish—to finish it rightly, and that national objective is just as strongly outlined now, with peace negotiations on, as it was when war was first declared.

Our duty before the world is just as clearly defined. Our obligation to the backward nations is just as great. Our responsibility for tranquility in stricken Russia and frenzied Germany and the pugnacious Balkans is in no measure diminished, and our pledge to world democracy stands unshaken.

We are just as much bound in honor to see this thing through to a right finish as we were to take our stand against Kaiserism and its attendant atrocities. We are just as much responsible individually as we were collectively. We would have been just as much affected, one way or the other, had kaiserism triumphed, and it is every man's duty to lend a willing hand in the battle for the common good. It is your duty as it is my duty. None is expected.

Uncle Sam plays no favorites in the matter of citizenship. Every man is placed upon an equality with his fellowmen. Duty and privilege obtain alike; and so must duty, and obligation, and responsibility, and loyalty.

Uncle Sam is about to ask us individually to lend him our money once more, that he may effectively put the finishing touches upon the job, that he may attain his original, his ultimate objective, in the name of right and justice and humanity, and we must come through.

MILD WINTERS

According to the Columbus Dispatch, this is not the mildest winter we have ever known. It has been mild, all right, for which we ought to be duly grateful, but the truth is, it breaks no record. We have had others as mild, and some that were much milder.

We have not seen the records for this immediate region, but the weather bureau recently furnished the statistics for western New York, and with slight modifications they would pertain, perhaps to this region. Thus it is shown that the average temperature for December and January of this winter was 37 degrees. The average for 1913 was 39.3; for 1905-06, 37.5, and for 1889-90, 40.8 degrees—three winters that were milder than this one has been.

The winter of 1889-90 was the warmest we have ever had since the bureau began keeping records. The average temperature of December and January, as stated, was 40.8 degrees. March broke in with a lower average temperature, however, and gave us 37.5 degrees as an average—the coldest March on record, and the coldest month of the winter.

Nor is it true that a mild winter follows a severe one, nor that a severe one always follows a war winter. The records show no such thing to be the case. The winter of 1889-90 was preceded by a rather mild winter, and the two following it were not severe—just ordinary winters.

According to the records, there is simply no way of telling what kind of season is going to follow any other kind of season. There is no way of knowing whether we are to have a hot summer or a cold one; that is, because we have had a mild winter, we can not say that we are to have a cool summer nor a hot summer. Apparently one season is not influenced or affected in any way by the nature of a season that goes before it.

WE MUST BE PATIENT

We must be patient in the matter of getting the boys home. That is, we must not expect all of them to come back in a week or a month. It is not physically possible to get them all across the ocean as early as we would have them come.

Nor does there seem to be any partiality shown in the matter. The men are being sent home without reference to their social or political influence. Favoritism does not seem to be playing any part. Those who get home early are fortunate; those who are left behind are unfortunate—and that is about all one can say of it.

But because patience is urged, it does not mean that we shall defend the war department for any lack of organization or efficiency in getting the men across. We have seen too much of inefficiency in some of the departments to patiently accept excuses. So while urging patience, it is well to demand that the war department speed up the bringing home of the boys to the very utmost.

There is complaint that the soldiers, especially the wounded are not adequately taken care of when they reach this country. If the complaints are well founded, it is nothing short of criminal inefficiency upon somebody's part. And if this great army of ours is kept in Europe for any considerable length of time, when it is not needed, the excuse that it was all due to a shortage of ships is not going to save the department from criticism. For, not until all of these boys are brought home should the ships be used for any other purpose, and some of them are being used for other purposes at this time.

BANDITS MURDER AND ROB BROWN COUNTY CITIZEN

Henry R. Day, of neighboring County, Murdered in His Auto Near Columbus Monday.

Henry R. Day talked with his sister, Mrs. Charles Miller, at Mt. Orab, Ohio, about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from Hillsboro, and the following morning a telephone message came to her from Columbus, saying that a few miles from that city Monday night he had been assaulted by two men who robbed him and shot him and that he had passed away in a hospital there.

During the conversation with his sister, Monday, he told her that he had just purchased a fine new seven-passenger automobile, and was engaged in taking a holiday home, and that they had been released from service at Chillicothe. He stated that he had a trip to Cincinnati in contemplation and expected to make a visit with relatives about Mt. Orab and in Georgetown.

Henry Day was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Day, both of whom have passed away. He is well known about Mt. Orab, although for something like twenty years. He lived at Sabina and other up-state towns, residing at Lancaster now, having made the trip from there to Chillicothe on the day he was murdered, and was upon his return at the time.

The holdup and murder occurred near Shadeville on the Chillicothe-Columbus pike. His body was found lying in the road by Chillicothe residents who removed him to the office of Dr. W. H. Blake, Shadeville, where, in dying gasps, Day told the story of how two men who had engaged him to drive them from Chillicothe to Columbus, beat him over the head with their guns, robbed him, then killed him from his auto into the road and shot him. Day was taken to Grant hospital, in Columbus, in an automobile and died on the operating table.

COUNTY TEACHERS MUST LEARN AGRICULTURE

Superintendent Turnipseed Makes Public Statement For Benefit of Teachers on Agriculture Study.

Section 24, Act 1918 1918, provides after July 1, 1919, the subject of Elementary Agriculture shall be taught in the Common Schools of this State except in cities of the First, Second, Third and Fourth Classes.

After July 1, 1919, no person shall be authorized to teach in the Common Schools of this State except in cities aforesaid, unless he shall have first passed an examination prepared by the State Board of Examiners, on the subject of Elementary Agriculture.

PLAN FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS COMPLETED

Constitution of World League Is Read at Peace Congress—Officials Will Explain.

Paris, February 14—A campaign to win world-wide support of the League of Nations was opened when President Wilson read the constitution before the General Peace Congress this afternoon.

The president, Premier Orlando and other statesmen spoke briefly in behalf of the league, pointing out that it now is a practical and workable proposition and deserving of unanimous support.

Instead of seeking formal adoption of the constitution by the peace conference at this time, the conference will ask that the draft be laid on the table to give the world an opportunity to study and comment on it.

President Wilson, Premier Lloyd George, Premier Clemenceau, Premier Orlando and others will confer directly with their own people regarding the league.

HURRAH FOR THE RED CRUSH!

When Frank Clark of Kinney marketed his crop of tobacco last week he set the mark so high that nothing in Kentucky will touch it this year. Of two measured acres he used enough land to plant 1½ bushels of potatoes, from which he dug 46 bushels (some potatoes that). On the balance of the two acres he planted tobacco, from which he raised and sold over the warehouse floor 4,700 pounds which sold for 74 cents a pound, which brought the nice little sum of $43.478.

This is some of the land, that a few years ago, sold for a very few dollars per acre. All this freestone land needs is phosphate and raw ground limestone to make it the most productive and desirable land anywhere. Blue Grass papers please copy this and let your readers know what their cousins of the Red Crush are doing—Vanceburg Sun.

Any person holding a certificate to teach need not be examined on any other branch than Elementary Agriculture, until the expiration of the certificate now held.

A supply of circulars and questions on same are now in my office and may be had for the asking.

Do not fail to get a circular and list of questions for I feel these questions will be very valuable in preparing for the examination. All persons now teaching and those expecting to teach must take this examination.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadowville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape."

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use. Bedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Pains of Maysville People.

As one weak link weakens a chain so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breakdown.

Overwork, strain, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary illa frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing gravel or fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Maysville testimony is proof of their effectiveness.

Mrs. Harry Mann, 495 W. Second St., says: "About two years ago, I suffered from an attack of kidney trouble that had lasted for a long time. I had a dull, constant ache in the small of my back and the pains were often sharp. I was also dizzy and felt tired and languid. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I haven't been bothered by kidney trouble since. I gladly advise anyone to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Chenoweth Drug Co., if troubled by their kidneys."

Mrs. Mann is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Mann had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 80 cents at all stores. DRESSMAKER SAVED FROM OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time.

Ithaca, N. Y.—"Three years ago I suffered from pains in my right side, so severe that I could not raise my feet from the floor. Pains would shoot down my limbs and through my back, and the doctor said I had an abscess. I was in bed two weeks with an icebag on my side and expected any day that I might have to go to a hospital for an operation. A friend came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it, and after taking six bottles I feel well and strong, do my own work and do dressmaking for others. I cannot speak too highly of your medicine and recommend it to others who suffer with female trouble. It is a Godsend to ailing women, and you may use my name at any time."—Mrs. PERMILLA HULSHIZER, 218 E. Fall St., Ithaca, N. Y.

The Busy Hour for Telephoning

If we comprehend that residences are ordering their groceries and supplies—that retailers are ordering from the wholesalers, that freight depots are notifying their consignees, and professional making their daily appointments—at just the time we are doing our own ordering, it must be between nine and ten o'clock in the morning.

If the "line is busy" when we call at that time, it is also busy for others when we are using it, and the whole situation might be relieved if we called later in the day.

If the person persists in visiting during the busy hours will have fine consideration for others, she will do it later in the day. She will not under any circumstances talk over five minutes. And she will use the telephone on party lines for reasonable and necessary purposes only.

PRESIDENT ON HIS WAY BACK TO AMERICA

President Wilson Sailed From Brest This Morning Returning to This Country—Will Go Back to Europe.

Brest, February 15—President Wilson sailed for the United States aboard the liner George Washington at 11:15 a. m. today.

Wilson's party is much smaller than that which accompanied him on the trip over, due to the fact that a large portion of the staff of technical experts and assistants is remaining in Paris to assist in the peace work. The liner also is bringing back the 300 American soldiers who formed the guard at the Murat Palace.

The president is expected to return to France shortly after the adjournment of Congress on March 4.

In addition to disposal of domestic problems at Washington, Wilson will appeal to a joint session of Congress for endorsement of the League of Nations, the constitution of which he presented to the peace conference at Paris yesterday.

Observers in Paris say he will rout completely all American opposition to the league plan when he explains to the American public the details of the great scheme.

His speech to the peace conference in presenting the league constitution, already has answered many of his critics, those close to his work in France believe today.

"This has the deepest of all meanings," he said in his address yesterday, "the union of wills in a common purpose, a union of wills which cannot be resisted and which, I dare say, no nation will run the risk of attempting to resist."

ANOTHER BIG SHOW BOOKED FOR OPERA HOUSE THIS MONTH

"Stolen Sweets" a Parisian Drama Will Be Entertainment at Local Theater on February 20.

The patrons of the theatre who like the unusual in their dramatic bill of fare will find it in "Stolen Sweets", M. Pierre Dumas latest Parisian masterpiece which comes to the Washington on February 20. Not since Olga Nethersole played "Sapho" in New York, and called forth a storm of protest from the self-constituted censors of the stage, has a drama been written that has created such a sensation as "The Triumph of Virtue". But the play justifies itself, because it tells the truth. The subject of which it treats is a delicate one, but it is handled in an artistic way. It is not likely that the narrow-minded bigot, who continually looks for something to censure, will be disappointed, for the author has not hesitated to "call a spade a spade". Those who want to be shocked may have their wishes gratified, but the fact remains that "Stolen Sweets" teaches a lesson that all should hear, and inculcates a moral that all should understand.

Brenda Mathews, in his "A Study of the Drama", says: "Of all the arts the drama is essentially the most democratic, for it cannot exist without the multitude. It has been called a function of the crowd, and for the reason the plays that have had the strongest appeal are ones which portray human passions. Love, hate, jealousy, gratitude, lust, all have their place in the drama of today, and as long as men and women retain these passions in their hearts, just so long will the play that depicts them in a manner true to life find a public to enjoy it. "Stolen Sweets" is written around the "eternal triangle", but its author has found a new angle for his theme. The woman to whom love means loyalty, the man who learns, by better experience, that it means self-sacrifice, and the man to whom it means only the gratification of his desires, are here, as they have been in a thousand plays, and their life-stories are told in a series of scenes of real dramatic power.

FATHERS AND SONS ENJOY FEAST OF GOOD THINGS AT BANQUET

One of the Most Enjoyable Evenings of the Season Spent at Father and Son Banquet Friday Evening—Dr. Henson's Talk Good.

The Father and Son Banquet given Friday evening at the First Presbyterian church under the auspices of the State Y. M. C. A. organization, was a great success in every way. There were many present—more than had been expected—but all were well cared for and entered into the spirit of the meeting.

The fathers and their sons assembled in the main auditorium of the church on the second floor and after being labeled, they formed in line and marched into the Sunday School room on the first floor which had been turned into a beautiful dining room by the ladies of the church. Long tables had been arranged through the room which were beautifully decorated. Walls of the room were covered with large cards prepared by the High School boys which bore attractive wording addressed to the boys and their fathers.

Mr. A. G. Sulser presided as toastmaster in a splendid fashion and Young's orchestra gave beautiful music during the evening. Miss Lucy Smith, Mr. Dodds and Mrs. Dodds sang the songs of popular and patriotic songs and the audience joined them in the chorus. Prof. Young sang a very beautiful bass solo.

Mr. James B. Wood was assigned the subject "An Ideal Son." He gave as his ideal of a son, one who was developing in mind, body and spirit. His address was very interesting. Roger Campbell, son of Prof. and Mrs. W. J. Campbell, gave a talk on "The Kind of a Dad I Like" and Roger carried the house away with him. His talk not only appealed to the sons present but to the fathers as well and the applause which followed his talk lasted for several minutes.

The chief address of the evening was delivered by Dr. L. L. Henson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Covington, who just returned three weeks ago from France where he had been for several months as a Y. M. C. A. worker. His address was very entertaining and greatly enjoyed. While he put many truths into the minds of his hearers out of his experiences, he was a very pleasing entertainer and could tell a story well.

One of the most interesting things about the entire evening was the time spent in telling nicknames. The fathers were first called upon to give their nicknames and some brought out much laughter. When the boys started the laughter would sometime drown the boys out. This part of the program was very amusing.

Mr. R. A. Cochran, chairman of the Red Triangle activities in Mason county and a member of the Board of Directors of the State organization gave a short talk near the close of the evening expressing his gratification at such a large audience being present and explaining some of the things the "Y" could do for Maysville and Mason county without a local organization.

An account of the very delightful evening would not be complete without some mention of the splendid banquet served by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church at such a nominal cost. The banquet was good and to express their appreciation a standing vote of thanks was accorded the ladies and then the whole audience gave nine raps and three cheers for the ladies.

Rev. Stevenson, new pastor of the Church of the Nativity, made the invocation and Dr. J. J. Diekey, of the Second Street M. E. Church, South, the benediction.

HENRY SHEA IN THE U. S.

Mr. Henry Shea this morning received a telegram from his son, Henry Shea, Jr., who has been in France for the past several months, informing him that he had arrived safely in New York City and that he expected to be home in a short time.

COLORED CHURCHES ARE INTERESTED IN CENTENARY

Pastor of Local Methodist Church Holds Series of Meetings Over This District in Interest of Movement.

After preaching three very inspiring sermons to his people on last Sunday on the Stewardship Movement in connection with the Mission Centennial of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. I. Garland Penn, Jr., left Monday for Washington, Ky., where he spoke in interest of the Centenary. He reports that the people at Washington received the message gladly. The Centenary organization was perfected in full. Mrs. Helen G. Penn, the Literature Secretary of this Sub-district gave full directions concerning the use of literature.

Tuesday night class services at Scott M. E. Church are proving to be a great spiritual blessing to the church. Most of the leaders were present and although the weather was bad a good record as to membership was given. Most of the unit leaders have given the unit prayer slips to their members.

On Wednesday and Thursday nights Rev. Penn spoke in Augusta, Ky., in behalf of the Centenary. It is his plan as Sub-District Chairman to visit each church within his district and see that the Centenary is put over.

MAYOR PROMISES PROSECUTION FOR UNJUST STOCK SALESMEN

Mayor Russell is out in a statement in which he says that he will vigorously prosecute all peddlers of unjust stock in the city and that unless license is obtained for the sale of stock in the city of Maysville wholesale arrests will follow. Maysville has been filled with stock salesmen for several weeks and they seem to have reaped quite a harvest.

VOGEL HAS GOOD CROWDS

From other cities comes the welcome tidings that great crowds are nightly greeting John W. Vogel's All New All White Big Minstrels, the business last week having been abnormally large, induced, perhaps, not alone because of this clever company's great following, but for the reason that many new and attractive novelties are announced. The company will appear at the Washington on Wednesday, February 19, and will no doubt be greeted by a crowded house.
